AS THE GATER SEES IT

By FRANK SCHWASS

FAN MAIL DEPT.

"My Dear Mr. Schwass:

If you don't quit slamming all the clubs on the campus you're going to get kicked off the Gater staff. If you want to know it your insults are not helping the college to get anywhere, and if you don't be careful you'll have a LOT of apologizing to do!"

Ain't it the truth, Babe? Anyway, the clubs on the campus should be slammed with monotonous regularity as long as their asinineties are inflicted on the student body in general.

According to a Miss Bobbe Sandeen, the P. E. Club will have a hike to Muscle Rock on Sunday, March 6. The place selected seems particularly appropriate insofar as the functions of a Physical Education Club are to increase the sundry muscles adorning our semi-human bones. All members and friends of the organization are invited to be Muscle Rock bound Sunday morn.

The Brush and Palette Club will hold a pot-luck dinner in the activities room tonight. Following the repast, the group will go to Frederic Burk Auditorium to hear a Mr. G. J. Cox of U. C. L. A. speak on "The Sanity of Art." That pot-luck business sounds pretty good but we'll lay a little wager that when the arty bunch get together the food is of the conventional shape, size, smell and taste. It would be a pretty horrible sensation eating surrealistic salad, cubist steaks, ice cream a la Dali, and potatoes Picasso. May we also suggest that Mr. Cox speak on "The Sanity of the Artist"—just to clear up a couple of points.

* * *

Apologies to Miss C. James, Mr. de Poister, and Mr. L. Wiegal for accusing them of spouting off some pretty lousy catch-phrases anent the forthcoming Music Federation party. Diligent snooping on our part revealed the fact that a Miss Gladys "Psychopathic" Ward, alleged journalist, frenzied by the approach of deadline time, dashed off the trite sayings in order to retain the good graces of her managing editor.

Mr. Ernest Miguel, erstwhile ultra-virile sports writer, is the culprit responsible for last issue's column "The Woman's Angle." The coy Mr. Miguel rattled off the usual nauseatingly feminine tripe with such a natural aptitude for the work that he has been rewarded with permanent possession of the feature. One of the prerequisites for writing that sort of column is the ability to gush over trifles. Mr. Miguel has this quality down pat and should be congratulated for his peculiar—ah—genius.

First Rally Parade Was Held Thursday Noon; Jam Session Featured

Jack Fisher's swing band led off Thursday's Talent Rally with a hot jam session. Fisher rattled the ivories, while Dick Lotter played the trumpet, Jerome Richardson, the clarinet, Bob Preston, the trombone, and Fred Young, the string bass. Their selections included "Exactly Like You," "Veni Veni," and "Honeysuckle Rose."

Gene Doyle, the first contestant, sang "There's A Gold Mine in the Sky" and "Ebb Tide." Fisher and company again let loose with "Bei Mir Bist du Schon." Alice McCoy sang "So Many Memories" and "Some Day My Prince Will Come" from Snow White. Gene Bailis sang "The One Rose" and "Sweet Someone." Tom Thorpe, pianist, played a mad-house-on-the-keys type of piece which he paradoxically entitled "The First Waltz." Following this he gave an imitation of an old fashioned player piano. He then topped off with an individual jam session.

Interspersed throughout the various selections were extremely brief talks by members of several athletic teams. "Spider" Turner spoke about the State-San Jose baseball game to be held Saturday at 4:00 p. m. in Roberts Stadium. Ken Kim, called upon to speak for the tennis team, quietly sneaked out, and Vic Lobry said a few words in his place. Hodgins spoke in behalf of the track team.

Monk Delma, State's chief rally leader, announced that the final Rally Talent Parade will be held some evening at the end of the term in Frederic Burk Auditorium. The winning contestant from each of the individual rallies will compete for the gold cup trophy. This award has been obtained through the courtesy and cooperation of Arnold Sampson, manager of Jenkel Jewelers, 150 Post Street.

Bob Acker Defeats Bill Rowlands 25-24

Climaxing a hectic day of loud-speakering, Tom Thorpe, A. M. S. prexy, declared Bob Aker elected to A.M.S. treasurer in the run-offs held last Wednesday.

Aker had polled 25 votes to Rowlands' 24.

Completion of the run-offs established the A.M.S. officials as Tom Thorpe, president; Ru Stone, vice-president; Bob Aker, secretary; and Gaetano Stella, treasurer.

Thorpe, in commenting on the election, stated: "I am sure that Aker will make a fine secretary, and be an asset to the organization."

Late Bulletin

By ED SMITH

A small blaze in the inner-office of the Publications room at 7:30 last night brought a flurry of fire engines and equipment to San Francisco State College, resulting in a hasty extermination of the fire, with little damage being done. The cause of the fire is as yet undetermined

Kay Bailey, member of Delta Phi Upsilon which was holding a tea in the Activities Room, was the person who discovered the blaze. Miss Bailey said, "I noticed from the window of the Activities Room that the flames were shooting up to the ceiling in the Publications Office. Without wasting time, I ran to the corner of Waller and Buchanan and turned in the alarm."

Vernon Rees turned in the alarm to the city fire department from Mr. Nee's office. Rees also attempted to extinguish the blaze with a fire extinguisher, but to his amazement the extinguisher would not work, and it is thought that it was empty.

Ted Theurer, college janitor, broke in the door and almost had the flames under control when the fire department arrived and quickly exterminated the blaze.

Bob Chamberlin, Editor of the Gater, said, "The time at which the fire occurred, which was 7:30, relieves the blame from any one connected with Publications. The Gater will do its utmost to track down the person, or persons responsible for the fire."

"Hedda Gabler" Put On By Little Theater

"Hedda Gabler" by Ibsen will make its appearance on the stage of the Little Theatre in two or three weeks. This is the second Ibsen work to be presented in the last three years. The first was the production "Ghosts." Lillian Collins, who took the part of Mrs. Alving in that play, will lead the cast in the ensuing presentation in the role of Hedda.

It is thought that the cast, after the several recent changes, will remain as follows: Lillian Collins as Hedda, Fred McGowan as Judge Brack, Bud Decker as George Tesman, Molly Levin as Miss Juliana Tesman, Evelyn Geinzer as Mrs. Thea Elvsted, Donald Joy as Ejlert Lovborg, and Rita Sadler as Bertha. John O'Shaughnessy, chairman of the Drama Council, is in charge of the technical production.

Miss Casebolt announced that there will be three presentations of the drama, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday being the selected days. Admission will be by student body card or a small fee of thirty-five cents for non-students.

Joe Sanders Guest At Frosh Hop

Joe Sanders, maestro of Rose Room Bowl, Palace Hotel, and Jane Kay, brunette vocalist with the band, are tentatively scheduled to appear at the Frosh Hop, March 12 at the Palace Gold Room, according to high-frosh prexy Bob Black. Black and Howard Moser are co-chairmen of the affair, and are presidents of their classes. Chairman of the ticket committee, Peggy Roach, anticipates a record sale to members of this largest frosh class enrolled at State.

Jack Martin, guitar-playing leader of the band, and winner of State contest for California Hour radio program, will feature Dick Lotter, anticipatory successor to Louie Armstrong on special choruses. Vocalists Phil Ford and dark-haired Audrey Ellis of U. C. will hurl the notes around the mike. Feature number of the band is "I Never Knew," with hot chorus and sweet playing by individuals of the band. Inform Jack Martin or Bob Black if your birthday is within one week of the dance, and they will render a special swing arrangement of "Happy Birthday" for greeting.

The affair will be semi-formal, and bids or $1.50, on sale in College Hall.

Mrs. Witt-Diamont and Mr. Farmer are among the patrons and patronesses.

Debaters Engage in Active March Program

Stanford was the recipient of the harsh words of the State varsity debating squad last night in the first of seven inter-collegiate debates on the Forensic Council schedule for the next two weeks.

The Stanford question was, "Resolved; that the C.I.O. is superior to the A. F. of L." State defended the affirmative, being represented by the number one women's team, Shirlie Senk and Jeanette Jennings. The same question will be argued with Santa Clara next Tuesday on the Santa Clarans' home grounds. Gallagher and Van Houte will defend the Staters' side.

St. Mary's will defend the negative side of the question, "Resolved; that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration in all cases of labor dispute," against the State forensic representatives.

Thursday, March 10, will see the same N.L.R.B. buffed back and forth by the State and College of Pacific teams in the Activities. The Board will take another vocal beating on March 15, when the Modesto Jaysee will meet the Gater forensic number one squad here.

The frosh squad will have a chance to argue in public on March 8, when they will meet the debaters from the Sequoyah High School in Marin county.

The first debate of the radio debating series will be on Saturday, March 19, between State and Santa Clara over radio station KSFO.

Clubs Sponsor Pledge Week

At the last meeting of the Federation of Clubs it was decided that Club Week would be held from March 28th to 31st. The purpose of this week is to acquaint members of the Student Body of the various clubs on the campus, and to urge them to join a club.

Chairman Ed Smith appointed Howard Brubeck, Olge Johnsen, Alice Mano, Fran Twohig, Peggy Clifford on the committee to outline plans for Club Week, Howard Brubeck being the Chairman.

A tentative outline includes various talks and demonstrations during the week by the clubs, and a rally on the last day when all club presidents will give a short talk. It is hoped to have a noon dance following the rally.

Ed Smith stated, "In order to have a more unified student body, and a well rounded social program at State, it seems almost necessary that the majority of students should join a club. The social and intellectual contacts that one makes by joining a club will go to making the well-rounded individual that is a necessary part of college life. I urge those who do not belong to a club to join some club here at State."

Practice Teachers Organize Junior C.T.A.

In order to further professional standards and ideals, practice teachers of the State of California have organized a junior section which is affiliated with the California Teachers' Association. This idea was suggested by a State College group, and was accepted enthusiastically by other State Teachers' Colleges. Under the chairmanship of Bud Decker, of State, a committee of practicing teachers from State College are working on a constitution for the organization, and formulating plans for immediate and effective action. All practicing teachers in elementary, junior high, and secondary departments are eligible for membership, and will benefit by coming in contact with professional teachers in their field. They will gain publicity for themselves through the Sierra News, the C. T. A. magazine.

Working on the committee are Charles Rich, Will Smith, Blanche Tobey, Pauline Quirk, and many others.

Committee Promises Hot Band, Novelties Prizes and Such

Valuable prizes will be an attraction at tonight's Music Federation Annex Amble, open to Music Fed members free, their guests and all students enrolled in music activities and courses at twenty-five cents a head. Included in the prizes will be two tickets to the Frosh Hop, March 12 at the Palace Hotel.

Music frosh of the largest incoming class will be honored, and a record crowd, to surpass last year's super-successful affair, is expected.

Jam band and specialty numbers will be highlights, and from a reliable source it was learned that a famous birthday will be celebrated, complete with candle-covered birthday cake. Cake and punch will assuage the inner man of the frolickers, according to Connie James of the refreshment committee.

Howard Brubeck, MF president; Kenneth Bailey, chairman of arrangements; Jane Callum, decorations' chairman; and Connie James are the moguls in charge.

Dr. Knuth and the Music Faculty will be sponsors.

Student Agatheans Organize At State;

"The Student Agatheans," the newest organization on the campus, visited the Children's Hospital last Friday and presented entertainment.

The organization has an active semester planned and have already presented Reverend Gilbert Swenson, Mission Covenant Church, San Francisco; Reverend Harwell, Wesley Methodist Church, San Francisco; Reverend Edwin Johnson, Mission Covenant Church, Oakland, and Reverend Robert G. Hovland at their meetings.

President Mirian Kalson states that "The Student Agatheans are devoted to a study of the Bible, to the performance of good works, and to the formation of Christian fellowship."

Meetings are held every Thursday at 11 a. m. at 100 Laguna St., Apartment 15, with Reverend Linnie Carl as instructor.

President Kalson is assisted by Virginia Redding as vice-president; Edna Bickerdike as secretary-treasurer; Marion Hunt as song directors; Emily Christensen as publicity director; Felix Grosso as news reporter.

All students interested in this organization are urged to communicate with one of the officers.

EDITORIALS

Editorials and feature articles in the Golden Gater reflect only the writer's opinion. They make no claim to represent student or administration opinion. All unsigned editorials are by the Editor.

Are Elections Square? . . .

Since the lax administration of elections has reached an all-time high in the recent run-off between Bob Aker and Bill Rowlands, the Golden Gater feels that it's just about time to call a halt to the finegling in college elections.

We are sticking our collective neck out in exposing the careless manner in which these supposedly honest ballotings are held, but the editors and staff of this paper happen to have a certain ethical compulsion to print what they know.

Certain members of the Gater staff have been delegated to see whether it is possible to vote twice in student elections. These intelligence agents have voted twice in general student body elections, A.M.S. elections, and the A.M.S. run-off election. These, remember, are only the cases that we happen to have investigated. If the persons involved wish to challenge these statements we are in a position to prove what we say.

We are, in a sense, violating a confidence in stating that we are in a position to ask for a re-vote on the Rowlands-Aker election. We do not wish sensationalism, we would prefer not to have to mention names. But considering the facts that we have at our disposal we feel it would be fairer to both candidates were the election held again next week.

The moral of the story is simply this: Let's observe the rule that a popularly elected student body official be present at all times when elections are in progress. Let there be a separate list of eligible voters for each election. For as long as we are under a system of democracy in student government, it should be actual as well as nominal.

Suggestion On Congestion . . .

A suggestion has come to the Golden Gater that we feel is worthy of a printing. "How about," said this student, "moving the post boxes out of the Co-op into the downstairs hall?" And we say to the Building Administration . . . How about it?

The crowding and pushing that goes on in that corner of the already crowded bookstore is altogether unnecessary. The bookstore could certainly use the space; the boxes would be more accessible; and the contents of the boxes would be as safe as they are now.

With the volume of business the bookstore handles at most hours of the day, it is impossible for the employees to keep an effective guard over the boxes. It is manifestly inane to expect them, even were they able to watch, to remember the owner of each of some 1,400 post boxes. Those who wish to leave valuables for others almost invariably take advantage of the courtesy extended in such matters by the administration of the bookstore.

So, these being the facts and the expense being negligible, the Golden Gater suggests that this item be attended to in the near future.

High and Low Notes

By MILT BRONSTEIN

A very agreeable surprise came to some of the students in the College Symphony when Dr. Knuth gave them a chance to conduct the orchestra on the spur of the moment in the works of Glinka and Wagner. There were some very good examples of training done by Mr. Zech in his conducting classes. Nevertheless, ask any of those who conducted; they will tell you that they never have seen notes go past them so fast in their lives. Dr. Knuth stood in the rear of the room and was getting a good deal of enjoyment out of watching the would-be conductors go through a fast four-four tempo. Dr. Knuth promised that there will be more of this experience coming to the other members of the Symphony soon.

The recent article in the Gater written about Miss Casebolt's dramatic classes utilizing the recording of voices to hear how their individual voices sound to others made no mention of the fact that the recording was to be done on the apparatus secured by the effort of the ever-growing music department. This is merely another instance for which the music department may be thanked for the work that it has done for departments other than its own. For ex. what would the rally talent parade do without the members of the music department? Or take the sports; they raised quite a howl to get a band for the football games. During the last few semesters there have been people who had never heard of S. F. State, and who were informed through the radio programs given by the music department that there was such a college. This accounts in a good part, I believe, for the raise in our enrollment, especially for this spring semester.

If you see the Seniors of our college running around mailing letters, and wildly comparing music comprehensive notes, don't be disturbed; the fact is that these people are finally at that state where they start worrying about when they are going to graduate, and if they are, what school is going to be lucky enough to have them teach. It is at this time that they start thinking of all the friends that they ever have made, and whether or not they know the president of the school board in their home towns well enough to expect a position. It's at times like these when you are glad that you did that influential friend that favor a couple of years ago.

Smiles . . . Remember that I told you about Garoli's cymbal playing? I understand that he finally has done it: he hit them together so hard the other day during band rehearsal that he bent them inside out! . . . Mr. Freeburg did a very nice job of wiggling his ears during A Capella; I wonder whether or not he used them for semaphores.

From what I have been hearing, the Annex Amble tonight at Annex B8 should be one of highlights in the social life of the music majors. A specially enrolled jam band from Music 732, Chamber Music as studied at S. F. State, will be the ace attraction. It has been rumored that Dr. Knuth and Mr. Freeburg have been studying the Big Apple and the intricacies of Truckin' especially for this occasion. Perhaps we will see a demonstration by the pair; they once did a wonderful Laurel and Hardy act. Ken Bailey, chairman, promises a good time for all, and he says that he still is counting on leaving the wall-flowers out of the decorations. See you all tonight at Annex B8!

Sports Club Issues Student Petitions

Petitions are being circulated by members of the Winter Sports Club in an effort to get the one hundred and fifty signatures that are necessary in order to make the organization a part of the college curricula.

The organization will be supported by the Athletic Department and the Student Body Fund, and State students who have skates will be able to skate free of charge. Those who do not have skates will have to pay a rental charge of fifteen cents.

"The News Behind the News"

Our barrel-hipped Executive Board members, viewing with alarm the subversive Executive Board stories appearing in the Golden Gater, have now reached the zenith of ingenious planning in their attempt to kill the publication of such stories. Dropping around to cover the meeting last Monday night, we were informed that, following the meeting, a "press conference" would be held to iron out the information that was to appear in the paper, and a like procedure would follow at all meetings in the future.

Now, wasn't that nice of the boys and girls? Always going out of their way to try and help someone else. Needless to say, this unforeseen contingency came to us as a complete surprise, leaving in its wake a pleasant glow of good cheer that conveyed a thoroughly enjoyable "God is in His Heaven" feeling. Oh, it was wonderful. Simply wonderful.

* * *

Even now, we can see the beaming countenance of President Will "Double J" Smith, who allowed us to bask in the sunshine of his smile while informing us that certain "off the record" statements made at Executive Board meetings can't appear in the paper. So you can readily understand the wretchedness of our heart when we were forced to tell him that there is just no such thing as an "off the record" statement while a meeting is in progress, and that the general student body is entitled to know every word that is said at such a meeting, inasmuch as those involved are their duly elected representatives But even this was nothing, when compared with our pain on hearing the paunchy Jim Fitzgerald inform us that "those statements in the paper are corrupt —just corrupt!"

Thus we bantered back and forth, Corrupt! Corrupt! Corrupt! Pounding on our mind, smashing us to smithereens, hitting with sledge hammer blows that reduced us to naught but dust, a mass of wrack and ruin. We tried to stop the thought, but all of no avail. We must be corrupt. Master Fitzgerald had spoken.

So, corruptly we will carry on, though we be the very spawn of a journalistic hell, and when "Double J" Smith informs us that we have stymied the more interesting aspects of the Executive Board meetings, we will be forced to tell him, in our own corrupt manner, that all statements made at Executive Board meetings are the property of the general student body, and that our corrupt newspaper will just have to keep right on telling its subscribers all about what happens at the Boarding house meetings.

Our pain is indeed deep, but then, one simply must carry on in the face of great obstacles, musn't one?

Corrupt, corrupt, corrupt, corr, co . . . .

The A. M. S. people seem to have their little troubles, too. Following the usual voting procedure, ballots for the run-off of the Bob Aker vs. Bill Rowlands election for secretary were dropped in a waste-basket set aside for the purpose. But somebody forgot to tell the janitor about it, so imagine the surprise of the AMSers on finding an empty basket, a vanishing janitor, and a heap of ballots strewed around the rubbish heap garnered by the clean-up man.

Anyway, after a diligent search, the votes were dragged from the mire, slightly polluted but still readable, a count taken, and a resultant election of Mr. Aker to the secretaryship followed.

CO-ED'S CORNER

By CAROL CROUCH

We spent a great deal of our energy in expounding upon the subject of a women's lounge last issue, and found that our sentiments were generally accepted. In order to bring the background rumblings within hearing, we decided to print some of them today. The first and most influential interest was expressed by the Associated Women Students, who agree that we should have a place to rest. They are willing to get themselves behind the movement if a sufficient number of women show interest and a willingness to accept the responsibility of such a lounge. They want to make some survey of opinion among the women to determine what rules and regulations would be accepted and abided by. Just what rules they would insist upon have not as yet been discovered, by your reporter, but we can assure you that they have a definite standard by which they will judge any action taken.

Then there is a certain and voluminous cry on the part of another group of women at State, whose idea of a lounge is not a place to go under guard, but to enjoy a natural freedom of conduct which would be governed only by their own standards and the opinion of the rest of the student body and the faculty of the school. They, too, make certain and definite demands. They claim that a restricting and closely supervised lounge is no better than none, and that relaxing is impossible at the point of a gun. That they either want a lounge or they don't want one, and no enemic, half-way measure will be satisfactory.

Then there is a weak whining of the male population that we women have no squawk coming, as they haven't even the conveniences that we have. All we can say to that is, "Do your own hollering." Whether they have or haven't is beside the point as far as we are concerned.

We would like to see some active interest taken on the part of you girls in this matter. Send us your views or contact some member of the A. W. S. It's about time we stopped barking behind closed doors and came outside to do a little effective biting.

TRACKSTERS MEET ALL-STARS

Baseball Team Meets San Jose State Tomorrow At San Jose Park; Mailho Pitching Hope Against Spartan Team

Trying for their first victory of the season, Coach Hal Harden's baseballers will pack their suits and travel to the prune city tomorrow to tangle with the San Jose State Spartans.

Although this year's squad is the biggest in history, a clicking combination has not yet been found. Harden has been experimenting, but without considerable success to date.

Infield Battle Rages

The hottest fight for positions is being waged in the infield. At first base Joaquin Martinez is leading Andy Gavron and Dick Hawkins. "Red" Thompson and Fred Ross are giving "Spider" Turner a tough time at second base, while Bill Hammond and Sid Fischer are neck and neck at the hot corner. Al Cleary is taking care of the short patch with Ed Collins as understudy.

Mailho Best Chucker

George Mailho heads the list of chuckers that includes Ru Stone, Vern Whitney, Jack Leahy, "Red" Buchanan and Dave Schutz. The catcher's duties are being sought by Jim McCoy, Frank Jackson, Dick Coshow and Tony Bacich.

Giving the best performance of any pitcher to date, Mailho appears to be the logical starter. In the Athens Club tussle the lanky right hander threw steady ball, holding the Clubmen hitless for the first five innings.

Spartans Trounce Reds

The Spartans will be the heavy favorite to come out on top. Although they were beaten 5 to 1 by the Athens Club and lost 3 to 0 to the Oakland "Rookies", a 12 to 1 drubbing administered to Stanford evens the picture.

Coach Gil Bishop is relying on Art Carpenter to pitch the Spartans to a victory. Last year, Carpenter, allowing one hit, beat the Gaters by a 7 to 0 score. However, State upset the San Jose team 5 to 4 in their second get-together, with Carpenter doing relief hurling.

Wet grounds forced the postponement of the State-Santa Rosa J. C. tilt scheduled for last Wednesday, to April 27.

The rink for the Winter Sports Club is only available on either Monday, Wednesday, or Friday from 10-12. Any other time will cost the regular price. Plans are being formulated to have one meeting at the rink. The response shown will act as a meter to future activities in this field.

SAY IT ISN'T SO

BY ALEX EDELSTEIN

"To set up a training program for those students interested in the field of Recreation." That is one of the aims of the "San Francisco State College Recreation Camp." The camp, a co-educationally planned enterprise, the only one in the United States, will be situated at Cazadero, Sonoma County, California, and will be held for a period of two weeks, starting June 1.

The camp also holds the aims of (2) acting as a summer camp and laboratory, in which students can be trained in outdoor organization and administration of camp life, (3) to give actual experience in camping, sports, outdoor activities, etc., (4) to satisfy the demand for trained people who are capable of teaching and supervising such camps in the future.

Facilities at the camp include such "good things" as a swimming pool, cafeteria and dining room, floored tents, hot and cold running water, an electrically lighted outdoor theatre, and general lighting facilities.

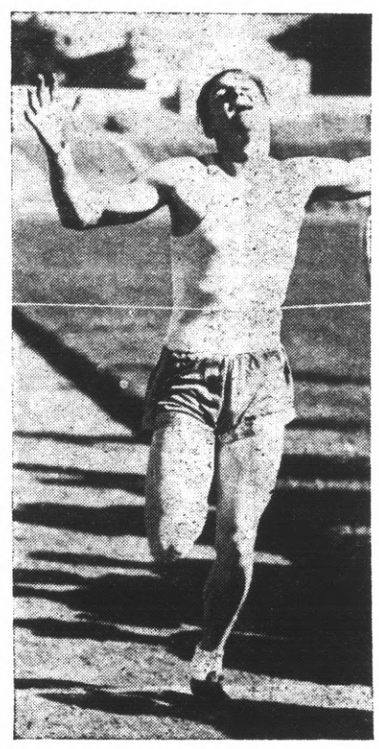
There has been ado aplenty raised regarding school spirit, a school spirit that has been sadly lacking this year as far as attendance at basketball games is concerned. Now we question the class spirit of all men. The annual boxing and wrestling inter-class tournament is scheduled for March 15, and according to Coach Dan Farmer, if all the spirit evidenced in this tourney was changed into a proportionately sized man, he would be able to play a game of golf on a piece of swiss cheese, or words to that effect.

Personalities on the Junior Varsity Ukiah-Willits trip . . . Bill Rowland's mighty stand in front of the Palace Hotel in Ukiah when he bellowed in a stentorian bass, at the top of his lungs, mind you, at a passing carfull of Ukiah rooters. "AH'll SMASH you . . . right in the nose!" Don McRitchie's classic remark to the "high pants wearing" Bud Decker, "Why don't you have your shoes throw a party and invite your pants down?" . . . Fitzgerald's bleeding, and Coach Mirande's caution to "Stabber" Collins about not "working himself into a frenzy," are unforgettable laughables.

PING-PONGERS!

Twenty-two men have signified their intention to enter the 1938 ping pong singles championship. The entry list will be closed this afternoon, and play will start the first part of next week.

DARYL AND ARVO STRUT FOR CAMERA



Above are shown Daryl Hopkins and Arvo Kannisto, S. F. State star trackmen, who wiill run in the All-Star meet against the preps tomorrow. Kannisto is the trackman to the right and won the 440 and 880 yards in the interclass meet.

State Track Team Favored To Take High School Trackmen In First Meet Of Season For Dean Cox's Cindermen

By PHIL SCHMIDT

Golden Tide's 1938 track and field squad will make its debut tomorrow afternoon in Kezar Stadium against the combined forces of the San Francisco High Schools. The Gaters will be favored to win every event, but the All-Stars usually pull several surprises.

Chief chances for victories for the high schools rest in the shot put and dash events. Delaney of Sacred Heart has heaved the iron ball over forty-eight feet (twelve pound weight) and Bobby Wilson, colored Commerce dash man, is capable of exceptional low time in the hundred and two hundred and twenty yard sprints.

Iron Man Stand!

Once again State will rely on its iron men, only this term there are several of these so-called men of steel. The three top iron men are veteran Daryl Hopkins, and freshmen Arvo Kannisto and Leo Theofield. Hopkins should see victory in both the hurdle events as well as in the high jump. Kannisto can snag both the half and the quarter mile events, while Theofield will be struggling for victory in the short dashes and in the broad jump.

Kline P. A. Winner

Fred Kline, who won the Pacific Association cross country run last week, on past performances will be an easy victor in the two mile. Bill Stein and Alexander Pantages should waltz away with the shot and discus, though Delaney might give them strong competition. In the high jump Commerce's Wilbur Bartlett is capable of clearing over six feet, but is steady at around five feet nine inches. Unless Bartlett is especially hot Hopkins should win without much trouble. In the half mile Kannisto will have to watch out for LaFitte (reputedly kin of the famous pirate) of Lowell High. He was timed in two minutes and twelve seconds in the P. A. indoor meet and is bound to knock off some time when running in the wide open spaces. Below is a list of some of the State entrants:

LIST COMPETITORS

100—Theofield; J. Hopkins; Penninou.

220—Collins; J. Hopkins; Theofield.

Block Awards System Needed

Presenting a lineup well-balanced from one end to the other, Coach Dan Farmer's 1938 edition of the Gater tennis team takes the court tomorrow morning in an attempt to beat St. Mary's. The match is scheduled for ten o'clock on the Moraga courts.

Challenger Repelled

The sole candidate for the number one spot for State is Jack Witt, who has established himself as an experienced, steady player. Witt has won an assortment of cups, all earned through stellar performances on local courts. In a game recently Rob Kavanagh, who has been tentatively placed on the second rung of the varsity ladder, challenged Witt and gave him quite a battle, but lost in three sets.

At the present writing "Babe" Arlington, a veteran of three campaigns under the Purple and Gold banner, rates the third position, with Doug Crary threatening his ranking. Crary is, at times, rather erratic in singles, but has a strong overhead game and will probably rank high in the doubles.

Other Veterans Return

Ken Kim, fifth man, is another returning veteran, as is Lucian Morrison. These two, with Mitch Nasser, promising freshman; Joe Sanz, of basketball fame; and "Mickey" Maguire and Bill Trevorrow, of last year's squad, will probably round out the lineup for tomorrow's matches.

In a match a couple of days ago, Joe Sanz defeated the number six man and if he shows the same improvement should be one of the more valuable men on the squad, according to close observers, who watched his court antics with unconcealed interest.

INTRAMURAL

Intramural activities are moving steadily towards its opening day, it was learned today through Dave Schutz, interclass manager. "We hope to get things started immediately, and if the weather holds up should have things going within the next few days," Dave declared.

The activities last year were the most successful ever undertaken with basketball and football holding the spotlight. The Rover Boys were the winners last year in the football tourney while the Basketeers took the basketball trophy.

Track, baseball, tennis and other sports will be taken up this year with signups in the near future. The interclass boxing signup is in progress now with signups being urged by Dan Farmer, sponsor of the affair.

Among the athletically-inclined young gentlemen of this fair college is growing a dissatisfaction with the block awards system. It was formulated several years ago and does not measure up to what it should for the present state of athletic activity.

More teams are being formed, more men are participating, and the schedules are offering stiff competition. The awards given by the student body should keep pace; at the present they have not.

It is possible that a man can play on the varsity football eleven in every game, and still not get his letter. Why? Because no minimum number of minutes' playing time is prescribed, as is the case in the average college and high school.

It is possible—and it nearly happened — for a man to win every singles match on the tennis team for four years, and not win his blanket, or possibly his sweater award. Why? Because the TEAM must win one match—and this in spite of the fact that tennis is almost entirely an individual sport.
